Immunology asserts that an individual can be defined through self and nonself. Thomas Pradeu argues that this theory is inadequate, because immune responses to self constituents and immune tolerance of foreign entities are the rule, not the exception.

The refreshed insights into early-imperial Roman historiography this book offers are linked to a recent discovery. In the spring of 2014, the binders of the archive of Robert Marichal were dusted off by the ERC funded project PLATINUM (ERC-StG 2014 n°636983) in response to Tiziano Dorandi's recollections of a series of unpublished notes on Latin texts on papyrus. Among these was an in-progress edition of the Latin rolls from Herculaneum, together with Marichal's intuition that one of them had to be ascribed to a certain 'Annaeus Seneca'. PLATINUM followed the unpublished intuition by Robert Marichal as one path of investigation in its own research and work. Working on the Latin P.Herc. 1067 led to confirm Marichal's intuitions and to go beyond it: P.Herc. 1067 is the only extant direct witness to Seneca the Elder's Historiae. Bringing a new and important chapter of Latin literature arise out of a charred papyrus is significant. The present volume is made up of two complementary sections, each of which contains seven contributions. They are in close dialogue with each other, as looking at the same literary matter from several points of view yields undeniable advantages and represents an innovative and fruitful step in Latin literary criticism. These two sections express the two different but interlinked axes along which the contributions were developed. On one side, the focus is on the starting point of the debate, namely the discovery of the papyrus roll transmitting the Historiae of Seneca the Elder and how such a discovery can be integrated with prior knowledge about this historiographical work. On the other side, there is a broader view on early-imperial Roman historiography, to which the new perspectives opened by the rediscovery of Seneca the Elder's Historiae greatly contribute.

“Modern Italy” may sound like an oxymoron. For Western civilization, Italian culture represents the classical past and the continuity of canonical tradition, while modernity is understood in contrary terms of rupture and rapid innovation. Charting the evolution of a culture renowned for its historical past into the 10 modern era challenges our understanding of both the resilience of tradition and the elasticity of modernity. We have a tendency when imagining Italy to look to a rather distant and definitely premodern setting. The ancient forum, medieval cloisters, baroque piazzas, and papal palaces constitute our ideal itinerary of Italian civilization. The Campo of Siena, Saint Peter's, all of Venice and San Gimignano satisfy us with their seemingly unbroken panoramas onto historical moments untouched by time; but elsewhere modern intrusions alter and obstruct the view to the landscapes of our expectations. As seasonal tourist or seasoned historian, we edit the encroachments time and change have wrought on our image of Italy. The learning of history is always a complex task, one that in the Italian environment is complicated by the changes wrought everywhere over the past 250 years. Culture on the peninsula continues to evolve with characteristic vibrancy. Italy is not a museum. To think of it as such—as a disorganized yet phenomenally rich museum unchanging in its exhibits—is to misunderstand the nature of the Italian cultural condition and the writing of history itself. The second volume of UFO CONTACTS IN ITALY includes a complete round up of UFO sightings and events from 1979 to 2020. After the incredible 1978-1979 Italian UFO wave with more than 2,000 reports, the Italian Government decided to face the UFO phenomena officially, and since then the Italian Air Force was charged to take care of the subject, as shown by official military documents obtained by Centro Ufologico Nazionale (CUN), who had a public primary role in all this. In 1979 a UFO photographed by an Italian Air Force jet fighter pilot over Treviso and a gigantic USO observed in the Tyrrhenian Seawere the most important cases investigated by CUN. In the 1980's, after the author's requested UFO presentation in the House of Lords in London and the death of Italian UFO pioneer Consul Alberto Perego, several sightings, landings and close encounters were reported all over the peninsula. In this decade we also had a division in Centro Ufologico Nazionale with the creation of the skeptical Centro Italiano Studi Ufologici (CISU), and Pinotti's successful academic papers mentioning UFOs officially presented in Brighton (UK) and Bangalore (India), respectively during the International astronautical Federation's congresses in 1987 and 1988. The 1990's started with an Alitalia near missover Kent and Soviet astronaut Gennady Strekhalov's admissions about his UFO space sighting during a congress in Italy, and then developed with landings, traces, near-crashes, flying humanoids, the Italian action of Tullio Regge in the European Parliament and the World UFO Symposium in San Marino, a frame in which events such as the Soviet KGB UFO dossier, the Santilli footage and Europe's first UFO postage stamp manifested themselves. In this decade we had also important genuine UFO photographs, secret UFO documents, UFOs monitoring NATO bases in Italy, a huge UFO encyclopaedia made in Italy, important statements from the Vatican and even an Intelligence attempt to destabilize CUN in order to stop its positive international action. The first ten years of the new millennium began with the official Italian Air Force UFO data and the unexpected Mussolini's Fascist UFO files, more sightings everywhere and the incredible endless saga with mysterious fires, UFOs and USOs at Caronia in Sicily, where at last authorities preferred to deny the evidence of the UFO presence behind these phenomena. Then we had a new Italian proposal about UFOs in the European Union Parliament and the University of Calabria's 1st International Symposium on Exobiology, Ufology and Exopolitics with speakers from all over the world co-ordinated by the author. The second decade of this century started with a new Italian call for an end to UFO secrecy in the European Parliament, CUN's requested lecture about UFOs and E.T. in the Vatican City, Italy represented by the author at the Citizens Hearing on Disclosure in Washington D.C. organized by political activist Steven Bassett, a new postage stamp issued to commemorate 20 years of the world UFO Symposium in San Marino and the sighting of an alien light probe. Besides this, we had Pope Francis 'speech about aliens, Pinotti's unexpected trip to Moscow and Gen. Savin's purported Russian ET contacts, the author's speeches in Brazil and at the Bulgarian Academy of Sciences Conference in Sofia, Luis Elizondo and Tom DeLonge were welcome CUN's guests in Rome, the collapse of the Chinese United Nations initiative for UFO and alien disclosure from Chongqing to Moscow and CUN's UN perspective after the author's contacts in Hong Kong, Barcelona, Roswell and Russia again. Last but not least, in 2020 also a huge cylindrical "mothership" and a "daylight disc" hovering over the Etna volcano in Sicily and the 28th edition of CUN's World UFO Symposium from San Marino on the internet in spite of the international COVID 19 contagion.

The school year is finished, exams are over and summer stretches before seventeen-year-old Federico, full of promise and opportunity. But then he accepts a request from one of his teachers to help out at a youth club in the destitute Sicilian neighbourhood of Brancaccio. This narrow tangle of alleyways is controlled by local mafia thugs, but it is also the home of children like Francesco, Maria, Dario, Totò: children with none of Federico's privileges, but with a strength and vitality that changes his life forever.

Written in intensely passionate and lyrical prose, What Hell Is Not is the phenomenal Italian bestseller about a man who brought light to one of the darkest corners of Sicily, and who refused to give up on the future of its children.

Una guida al cinema di fantascienza che traccia un percorso storico e cronologico, dalle pellicole mute e in bianco e nero dei pionieri della Settima Arte, ingenuie ma affascinanti, a quelle tridimensionali dei giorni nostri. Dai fondali di cartapesta di Viaggio nella Luna di Georges Méliès (1902) alla computer grafica di Avatar di James Cameron (2009), dal mitico Metropolis di Fritz Lang (1927) al nuovo Robocop di José Padilha (2014). Si passa poi ad analizzare, attraverso singole schede dedicate, capolavori cinematografici come 2001: odissea nello spazio, Fahrenheit 451, L'invasione degli ultracorpi o Minority Report e successi mondiali quali King Kong, passando per le saghe mitiche di Star Trek e Guerre stellari e per serie “minori” quali Interceptor/Mad Max, Terminator, Ritorno al futuro o Alien. Senza dimenticare i film di culto come Blade Runner, Gattaca, Matrix e le numerosissime pellicole da riscoprire (Il mostro della Laguna Nera, Il vampiro del Pianeta Rosso, K-Pax e tante altre). Una piacevole guida che non si limita alla discussione cronologica dei film, ma ne evidenzia i progressi tecnologici (il sonoro, il colore, l’evoluzione degli effetti speciali, il 3D), considerando i rapporti con la storia del cinema in generale e riflettendo sui grandi avvenimenti di cronaca che, influenzando l’immaginario collettivo, si rispecchiano nella cinematografia (le guerre mondiali, gli avvistamenti di UFO, il passaggio della cometa di Halley, la guerra fredda, i cataclismi naturali, l’11 settembre, ...). Il volume è arricchito da una serie di box dedicati a temi particolari o sottogeneri, oltre che alle personalità che hanno contribuito alla filmografia: dai registi agli attori più famosi, dalle case produttrici ai creatori di effetti speciali, dagli sceneggiatori agli autori dei soggetti letterari. Autori Roberto Chiavini, Gian Filippo Pizzo e Michele Tetro sono grandi esperti di cinema e letteratura di fantascienza, con al loro attivo centinaia di articoli e recensioni. Sono inoltre co-autori dei volumi: Dizionario dei personaggi fantastici (1996), Il grande cinema di fantascienza (2 vol., 2001-2003), Il grande cinema fantasy (2004), Il cinema dei fumetti (2007), tutti per Gremese; e di Contact: tutti i film sugli alieni (Tedeschi 2006), Mondi paralleli: la fantascienza dal libro al film (Della Vigna, 2011). This is just a limited selection of some of the most impressive and interesting events from over 12,000 UFO Italian cases CUN has in its files and occurred in Italy during the 20th century. Apart from conventional UFO sightings and close encounters of the first kind, in particular CUN investigated at least 1,000 Italian close encounters of the second and third kind and abduction cases, showing the constant, intelligent and alien nature of UFO phenomena also in our Country. This first volume draws no conclusion about the specific nature and intent of the non-terrestrial entities controlling UFOs. We shall try to do this, as far as possible, at the end of the second volume of this book.
